Congress Still Wiends Ax On Ike's Federal Budget

City Water Supply Is Hard-Pressed

Circleville is pressed for water due to excessive heat day after day, according to Ervin Leist, city utilities manager.

Leist said that high water consumption has caused a drop in pressure. He asked that business places restrict use of air conditioning systems and asked that residents curtail lawn sprinkling.

The utilities manager reported that more than 1.2 million gallons of water were pumped yesterday. He said that the pumping station had pumped more than a million gallons a day for a long period.

Leist said a combination of factors is causing the water problem. At present there are many more air conditioners than in the past, the canning factory is operating, the Mount of Praise camp meeting is in session and the average householder is using more due to the heat.

One major worry, with pressures low, is fire. Leist declared

Final Figure May Be Billion Below Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both branches of Congress now have passed 15 of the 16 money bills for the current financial year, and the goal of a fair-sized budget cut appears to be in sight.

The Senate cleared a $1,428,178,700 military construction measure Friday, its 15th fiscal 1960 appropriations bill, and now has only the foreign aid bill to debate. The House has acted on all 16.

Thirteen of the 16 measures actually have been sent to the White House. On these an over-all reduction of 235 million dollars below President Eisenhower's requests has been achieved.

But the biggest cut of all is almost certain to be made on foreign aid. When this measure and the two money bills still being worked on by Senate-House conference are passed, the reduction is expected to exceed a billion dollars. It may reach almost a billion and a half.

The House claimed a cut of a $1,244,000,000 in its action on the foreign aid bill, although some legislators charged this was achieved partly through ledger-main with figures.

These sources contend that the budget figure of $3,436,277,000 used by the House as Eisenhower's request for foreign aid is too high, and that thus the cut is overstated.

The two other bills which have not gone to the White House are military construction and an independent offices measure. Both are in conference between the two branches. Each will be somewhat below the budget.

The Senate, on the 15 bills which it has passed, has voted about 193 million dollars more than Eisenhower requested. But the House, on the same measures, was below.

Of the 13 bills on which Congress has completed action, 11 were reduced below the President's request. But the other two wiped out a good part of the cuts made on the 11.

'Cinderella' Wed To Rockefeller

SOGNE, Norway (AP) — The doors of the white Lutheran church opened today for the wedding of the American multimillionaire's son and the Norwegian beauty who was his family's maid.

Steven Rockefeller and Anne Marie Rasmussen chose a simple ceremony for their marriage starting with the traditional music of Wagner's wedding march.

The officiating vicar, the Rev. Olav Gauststad, added an additional touch by directing the bell ringer to play the hymn "Love From God."

He told the young couple "Your example shows that real love, which is from God, breaks down all the social and conventional barriers amongst us. To build a good home is perhaps the greatest of all acts."

Turning to the 23-year-old son of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, he said "You, Steven Rockefeller, take with you into your new home a good inheritance."

And to the 21-year-old blonde bride, daughter of a retired grocer, he said, "We will thank you for being a good ambassador of Norway, and we hope you will be a good member of the Rockefeller family and a useful citizen of your new, great country."

Just before the ceremony, the groom's father told newsmen Steven and Anne Marie will fly to New York Sunday to spend their honeymoon somewhere in the United States.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he and his wife will fly to Copenhagen, and the newlyweds will follow on a separate plane. They will meet in Copenhagen, he said but declined to elaborate on honeymoon plans.

Steven has done his best to keep the site of his honeymoon secret because his original plans for a trip to the hills of Wyoming with his bride were found out.

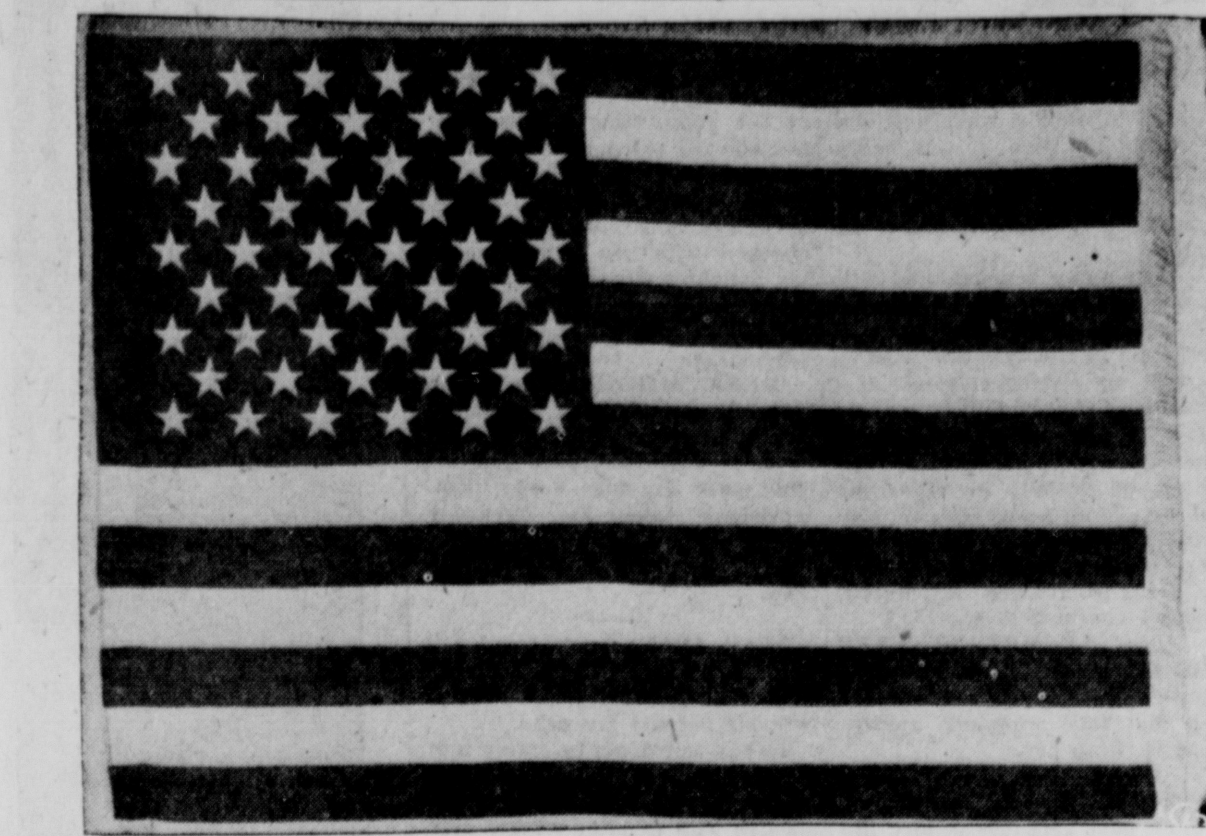

Steven met Anne Marie while she worked as a maid in the Rockefeller's Fifth Avenue home in New York.

The Cinderella romance caught the imagination of the world and brought foreign newsmen and television crews into this usually quiet village along with crowds of tourists and others. Extra police had to be hired.

The wedding reception and dinner will be held at the Kristiansand Club called the "Society Club" and sometimes the "White House."

The Sogne Lutheran Evangelical Church was decorated with pink carnations and roses covering the center aisle leading to the altar. African lilies, gladioli and chrysanthemums bloomed everywhere in the church.

Gov. Rockefeller flew to Norway Thursday night from New York to join his wife, already here well in advance to help in preparing for the wedding, and other members of the family.

AMERICA'S NEW GLORY — This is the new 50-star American flag President Eisenhower unveiled as he formally proclaimed Hawaii as the 50th state. The new Old Glory will not become the official flag until next Independence Day.

Ike Uses Dozen Pens To Sign Hawaii Statehood Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii, the jewel-like chain of islands 2,400 miles west of the mainland, has brought the United States of America to an even 50.

Using a dozen pens to sign his name, President Eisenhower proclaimed its statehood Friday. It was the second time in less than a year that he performed such a historic duty — Alaska became a state Jan. 3.

As Hawaii followed Alaska into the Union, the President also signed an executive order fixing the design of the 50-star flag. With a twinkle, he remarked that

U.S. Industrial Machine Slows Down a Little

Strikes, Vacations, Model Changeovers Curb Some Factories

NEW YORK (AP) — Strikes, vacations and auto model changeovers slowed the nation's industrial machine this week. Most other lines of business activity barreled along at a fast clip.

Hopes for a quick settlement of the five-and-a-half-week-old steel walkout blew hot and cold.

The White House, through Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, sought to build a fire under the strike negotiators.

Mitchell released a 4,000-word report crammed with statistics on wages, prices, profits, productivity and other matters in dispute. These statistics, he said, "may serve to indicate the area which exists for a settlement in which the public's interest is taken fully to account."

And, he said, the steel negotiators could reach an early settlement if they got down to brass tacks at the bargaining table.

The stock market seemed to like Mitchell's remarks—the next day the market scored its biggest advance in 21 months, with steel shares leading the way.

Stock sales totaled 11,762,210 shares in the latest week, compared with 13,879,815 shares in the previous week and 12,270,245 shares in the same week last year. Bond sales had a par value against $30,325,200 the week before and $24,130,700 in the same 1958 week.

Mitchell's report was followed by a rash of rumors that agreement had been reached to end the strike. And just as promptly came emphatic denials from top industry and union negotiators.

But, as the dreary negotiations recessed Friday afternoon, there were signs that the White House warning might have been taken to heart. Both sides promised to work separately over the weekend, seeking out points they might agree on.

Monday they'll meet face to face again to hammer out the language of a new wage contract.

Effects of the steel shutdown, already apparent in a sharp drop-off in coal production and rail freight traffic, reached into the giant auto industry this week.

James Roche, boss of General Motors' Cadillac Division, said Cadillac will run into serious production problems if the strike isn't settled soon.

The 1960 Caddies are scheduled to go on public display Oct. 2. If the manufacturer doesn't get some steel in the next few weeks, Roche said, Cadillac dealers may have nothing to sell but samples.

Cadillac, like most other American automakers, has stopped building 1959 cars. Some, notably Chevrolet, are already making 1960 models.

For the buyer interested in a 1959 car, dealers this week had a wide assortment. Inventories were around the 900,000 mark. Sales moved forward briskly.

New car prices have been going down a bit, as they normally do toward the end of the model year.

Used car prices—and prices of just about everything else you buy—have risen slightly.

The trend is mirrored in the government's latest cost-of-living index, announced Friday. The index—which measures living costs for July—edged up to a new peak: (Continued on Page Two)

Congress Labor Bill Writers Move into Delicate Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees have moved into the last and most delicate stage of their efforts to reconcile the tough House labor control bill and the middle-of-the-road Senate measure.

Friday, before recessing until Monday, they got to work on the

Lincoln Bust Booted Out of Courthouse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the corridor of the new Los Angeles County courthouse, there stood a heroic bust of Abraham Lincoln, brooding in bronze.

Today this meticulously molded monument to Lincoln the lawyer is gone.

The lawyers kicked it out.

The 300-pound bust is the creation of Dr. Emil Seletz, a Beverly Hills brain surgeon who has done portrait sculpturing about 20 years. His work has won five first prizes in West Coast art shows.

When the 24-million-dollar courthouse was built, the bust was installed in the main corridor. But before long the Los Angeles Bar Assn. complained because:

Dr. Seletz occasionally testifies in injury cases involving his patients. On several occasions, he has been identified in court as the creator of the Lincoln bust. Some attorneys felt this identification might affect the decisions of juries.

"They thought," the doctor said, "that if the jury knew I made the Lincoln they would think me more capable in my field of surgery."

Grant Cooper, a vice president of the bar association, said:

"There had been complaints from members (of the association) and judges. Complaints had come on both sides of cases."

Cooper said attorneys had "asked the doctor embarrassing question, like was he a doctor or a sculptor?"

The association asked the County Board of Supervisors to remove the bust. And Friday Lincoln was carted away to the doctor's home.

Senate Hikes Fund on New Military Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate looked 10 million dollars more generous than the House in a military construction appropriations bill passed Friday. The Senate bill carries $23,691,000 for Ohio projects.

The measure will probably go to a Senate-House Conference Committee to iron out the differences.

The projects in Ohio for which the Senate increased allocations are: Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Columbus General Depot, Clinton County Air Force Base, an Army National Guard project at Caldwell in Noble County, and the Clinton County AFB Hospital.

Exact difference between Senate and House appropriations was $10,294,000.

Both houses voted identical amounts on these 20 Ohio projects:

Army National Guard: Elyria, $160,000; Lancaster, $160,000; Greenville, $165,000; Norwalk, $140,000.

Army Reserve: Bellaire, $302,000; Bryan, $30,000; Cadiz, $30,000; Canton, $61,000; Dayton, $48,000; $168,000; Kenton, $30,000; Marietta, $30,000; Painesville, $168,000; Plymouth, $30,000; St. Marys, $168,000; Warren, $302,000; Wooster, $30,000.

Naval Reserve: Cleveland, $665,000.

Air Force National Guard: Springfield, $105,000.

E. H. Blum, 85, Dies in Sleep

Retired Mailman Worked 33 Years

Mr. Edward H. Blum, 85, died in his sleep early this morning at his home on 372 Watt St.

Mr. Blum, a retired rural mail carrier for the Circleville Post-office, was born September 2, 1873, at Tippecanoe City, O., a son of Edward L. and Sophia Dohse Blum. He was a mail carrier here for 33 years.

He is survived by his wife, Stella Knight Blum. They were married in 1916 in Akron.

Other survivors are one son, Edward, Route 2, Laurelvale; one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Esther Brixius, Hammond, Ind.; seven grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Henn, E. Main St.

MR. BLUM was a member of the Circleville Trinity Lutheran Church.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home, with Rev. Carl Zehner officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home starting at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Segregation Fight Moves To Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock segregationists, stymied in their own hometown, found a receptive audience at a rally protesting integration of the Dollarway school near here.

A crowd of about 1,000 cheered and laughed Friday night as Amis Guthridge, attorney for the Capital Citizens Council, lashed and ridiculed persons he accused of promoting integration at Little Rock.

Guthridge assured his listeners that the Little Rock struggle was not over, although four Negroes have attended two once-white schools since Aug. 12 without incident.

He urged the crowd to stay united in the struggle to prevent entry of three Negroes to Dollarway when the school opens Sept. 8.

"If Negroes are permitted to attend Dollarway, the bars are down," Guthridge said. "The doors of every school in Arkansas' 400 districts will be open to them."

The Dollarway School Board has appealed a federal court order directing school officials to admit the three Negroes.

The audience began heckling newsmen after Guthridge said "The press is down here as our enemies."

Guthridge singled out Gertrude Samuels, writer for the New York Times Sunday Magazine, and most of the crowd's aunts were directed at her. Miss Samuels photographed persons yelling at her.

Two Attacks Investigated

Circleville Police today are investigating two alleged beatings reported here last night.

Joseph E. Giffin, 23, on leave from the U. S. Army at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., was cited into Circleville Municipal Court on an affidavit filed by William Cassidy, 31, Long Alley.

According to local police, Cassidy charged Giffin with blind-folding, kicking and beating him. Cassidy said the incident was in an alley near the Winorr Canning Factory at about midnight.

Police said Robert Caudill, 18, of 155 E. Mound St., reported that he was struck on the head with a club. He was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations on the head, scalp and lip.

Caudill reportedly was attacked at about 11:30 p. m. in an alley between Watt and Main Sts. near Court St. Officers said Caudill was unable to identify his attackers.

Marion Opens Door To Khrush Visit

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The city of Marion is waiting patiently for an answer from the State Department concerning an inquiry it made recently about a possible Khrushchev visit.

Mayor Wendell Strong said Friday he answered the State Department inquiry with a letter, stating that Marion would welcome the Soviet premier and "make an all-out effort to provide appropriate accommodations, communications and security in accordance with the good wishes of President Eisenhower."

UAW Probe Said Political 'Witchhunt'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current investigation of the United Auto Workers is a "political witchhunt" to kick off re-election campaigns of two Republican senators, the union charged Friday.

The charges came from Jack Conway, assistant to UAW President Walter Reuther, and Joseph L. Rauh Jr., the UAW's Washington lawyer. They pointed fingers at Sens. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska.

Curtis replied "This is an inquiry for facts, and the facts developed can speak for themselves." Mundt said "When the facts are in it will be the appropriate time to say whether the practices disclosed are proper."

Conway said the two senators were running the Senate committee's probe of the UAW and other committee members were in the dark as to what was coming next.

He said the charges being aired against Richard T. Gosser, UAW international vice president, were a reshuffle of stale allegations raised 10 years ago and proved unfounded. Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said they were unsubstantiated when the committee looked into them a year and a half ago, Conway added.

Conway and Rauh called a news conference late Friday, saying this was the only way they could get the union's side before the public.

The committee had just recessed until next Wednesday what has been billed as a preliminary investigation of the UAW.

2 More Senators Named by Probers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hotel records of State Sen. Lowell C. Fess of Yellow Springs and former State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand of Toledo were subpoenaed Friday by the Franklin County Grand jury, which is investigating alleged payment of legislators' hotel bills by lobbyists.

County Prosecutor Earl W. Allison said he subpoenaed records of the Deshler Hilton Hotel here for information between Jan. 1, 1955 and Jan. 1, 1959.

The prosecutor said he hoped to wind up the special probe shortly after Sept. 1, the deadline for lobbyists to file expense accounts pertaining to activities during the recently ended Legislature.

Air Aides To Cease Going to Plush Club

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Air Force official promises its officers will accept no more invitations from a big aircraft company to spend weekends at a plush club in the Bahamas Islands.

Asst. Air Force Secretary Philip B. Taylor conceded to House investigators Friday it "didn't look good" for Pentagon officers to be the guests of the Martin Co. on these outings.

Martin is one of the biggest aircraft and missile manufacturers.

that the pressure stood at 40 pounds at 1 p. m. yesterday as compared to the normal 46-54 pounds.

THE CITY gets its water from underground chambers along Darby Creek. There are two chambers, one lower than the other. The higher chamber is not now supplying water fast enough for the rate of consumption and the lower chamber is used to feed the upper chamber. Water cannot be pumped directly from the lower chamber.

Leist stressed that cooperative effort is needed during the dry, hot spell. He said there is no demand that water use be curtailed but asked for cooperation.

He also predicted that another siege of "red" water will be upon city residents due to the high water use rate. The "red" water is caused by rust scoured from water lines during periods of high consumption.

Biggest Cut Expected To Come as Solons Set Up Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both branches of Congress now have passed 15 of the 16 money bills for the current financial year, and the goal of a fair-sized budget cut appears to be in sight.

The Senate cleared a $1,428,178,700 military construction measure Friday, its 15th fiscal 1960 appropriations bill, and now has only the foreign aid bill to debate. The House has acted on all 16.

Thirteen of the 16 measures actually have been sent to the White House. On these an over-all reduction of 235 million dollars below President Eisenhower's requests has been achieved.

The House claimed a cut of a $1,244,000,000 in its action on the foreign aid bill, although some legislators charged this was achieved partly through ledger-main with figures.

These sources contend that the budget figure of $3,436,277,000 used by the House as Eisenhower's request for foreign aid is too high, and that this cut is overstated.

The Senate, on the 15 bills which it has passed, has voted about 193 million dollars more than Eisenhower requested. But the House, on the same measures, was budget.

Of the 13 bills on which Congress has completed action, 11 were reduced below the President's request. But the other two wiped out a good part of the cuts made on the 11.

UAW Probe Said Political 'Witchhunt'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The current investigation of the United Auto Workers is a "political witchhunt" to kick off re-election campaigns of two Republican senators, the union charged Friday.

The charges came from Jack Conway, assistant to UAW President Walter Reuther, and Joseph L. Rauh Jr., the UAW's Washington lawyer. They pointed fingers at Sens. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska.

Curtis replied "This is an inquiry for facts, and the facts developed can speak for themselves." Mundt said "When the facts are in it will be the appropriate time to say whether the practices disclosed are proper."

Conway said the two senators were running the Senate committee's probe of the UAW and other committee members were in the dark as to what was coming next.

The committee had just recessed until next Wednesday what has been billed as a preliminary investigation of the UAW.

U.S. Attorney Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's nomination of Russell E. Ake to be U.S. Attorney for Northern Ohio was approved Friday by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

'Cinderella' Wed To Rockefeller

SOGNE, Norway (AP) — The doors of the white Lutheran church opened today for the wedding of the American multimillion-aire's son and the Norwegian beauty who was his family's maid. Steven Rockefeller and Anne Marie Rasmussen chose a simple ceremony for their marriage starting with the traditional music of Wagner's wedding march.

The officiating vicar, the Rev. Olav Gaustestad, added an additional touch by directing the bell ringer to play the hymn "Love From God."

He told the young couple "Your example shows that real love, which is from God, breaks down all the social and conventional barriers amongst us. To build a good home is perhaps the greatest of all arts."

Turning to the 23-year-old son of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, he said "You, Steven Rockefeller, take with you into your new home a good inheritance."

And to the 21-year-old blonde bride, daughter of a retired grocer, he said, "We will thank you for being a good ambassador of Norway, and we hope you will be a good member of the Rockefeller family and a useful citizen of your new, great country."

Just before the ceremony, the groom's father told newsmen Steven and Anne Marie will fly to New York Sunday to spend their honeymoon somewhere in the United States.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he and his wife will fly to Copenhagen, and the newlyweds will follow on a separate plane. They will meet in Copenhagen, he said but declined to elaborate on honeymoon plans.

"Steven has done his best to keep the site of his honeymoon secret because his original plans for a trip to the hills of Wyoming with his bride were found out."

Steven met Anne Marie while she worked as a maid in the Rockefeller's Fifth Avenue home in New York.

The Cinderella romance caught the imagination of the world and brought foreign newsmen and television crews into this usually quiet village along with crowds of tourists and others. Extra police had to be hired.

The wedding reception and dinner will be held at the Kristianstad Club called the "Society Club" and sometimes the "White House."

The Sogne Lutheran Evangelical Church was decorated with pink carnations and roses covering the center aisle leading to the altar. African lilies, gladioli and chrysanthemums bloomed everywhere in the church.

Despite a sharp drop in steel industry payrolls, total personal income of Americans in July reached a record annual rate of more than 384 billion dollars. Chicago Kids Worship Their Idol 'Kookie'

CHICAGO (AP)—They came to worship their idol Kookie. "This," he signed, "is Real Antville."

Some fainted, others sobbed with delight and still others surged toward him to gaze into his face, crowned with a crop of curly hair.

And so went the mass love affair between Ed "Kookie" Byrnes and 18,000 cheering bobby soxers Friday at Midway Airport, signaling his Chicago arrival.

The singing and acting star smiled, waved and blew kisses to his teen-age flock, described as the largest crowd ever to greet an entertainer at the airport.

They showered Kookie with a barrage of combs—a reminder of his TV hair-combing routine role on 77 Sunset Strip. The bobby sox set was rewarded.

"This is real Antville," said Kookie, 26, describing the crowd. "All these youngsters coming out to see me is the maximum—utmost."

Momentarily, away from his frantic worshippers, Kookie confided to newsmen:

"But enough of this Kookie talk. This isn't how I, Edward J. Byrnes, really talk. I like to do it for the teen-agers because I think each new generation usually finds something all its own."

"Jive-talk gives the boys and girls of today something private and personal through which they can communicate with one another—to be outside the adult world which surrounds them."

Ohio Schools To Be Short 1,100 Teachers This Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's public schools face a shortage of more than 1,100 teachers with the beginning of classes less than three weeks away, an Ohio Department of Education official said today.

This shortage, described as critical by Albert C. May, director of teacher certification, means schools will have to resort to the emergency measure of hiring teachers with temporary certificates.

The demand for teachers has increased by 3,500 over last year, May said. An estimated 74,600 are needed for the 1,800,000 students for the 1959-1960 school year.

May said the shortage this year may run as high as 1,500 teachers, according to results of a survey made recently by his office. Schools will have to hire under-trained teachers for the most part to fill the gap, he said. This is something the department frowns upon.

Luckily, many married women teachers come back each year after having dropped out of the profession to raise families, May said.

Ohio is in good shape salary-wise in all but the poorest districts.

The demand for teachers has increased by 3,500 over last year, May said. An estimated 74,600 are needed for the 1,800,000 students for the 1959-1960 school year.

May said the shortage this year may run as high as 1,500 teachers, according to results of a survey made recently by his office. Schools will have to hire under-trained teachers for the most part to fill the gap, he said. This is something the department frowns upon.

Luckily, many married women teachers come back each year after having dropped out of the profession to raise families, May said.

Ohio is in good shape salary-wise in all but the poorest districts.

Dear Abby... By Abigail VanBuren

Empty Sleeve Is No Handicap

DEAR ABBY: A year ago, due to an old infection, it was necessary to have my left arm amputated close to the shoulder I quickly adjusted to my loss until recently.

I became reacquainted with an old friend (now a divorcee) who insisted she'd be glad to let me escort her places. She assured me that my having only one arm made absolutely no difference to her. I have taken her out several times and enjoy her company.

Now she persists in telling me that my "empty sleeve" is conspicuous although she knows that I can't wear an artificial arm I am losing confidence in myself. Should I continue to see her?

"EMPTY SLEEVE"
DEAR SIR: Your "empty sleeve" isn't nearly the handicap that this woman's empty head is. Drop her.

DEAR ABBY: I am another one of those poor saps whose love life has gone to pot since my wife put a television set in our bedroom. Can you tell me how to get back in the act again?

NEGLECTED
DEAR NEGLECTED: They say one picture is worth ten thousand words. Don't you believe it! A few well-chosen words spoken softly and at the right moment beats any picture. Try it!

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that a sinner has no right to invite boy-friends over without the consent of her employer. But has the EMPLOYER the right to let the baby-sitter have boys over without the consent of the baby-sitter's MOTHER?

I found out that my 16-year-old daughter was entertaining boys at her baby-sitting job who were not allowed to come to our home. I am not trying to excuse my daughter. But don't you think the lady she sits for should have checked with me before letting my daughter entertain boys in her home? After all, my daughter is only 16 and she still needs a little supervision. IRATE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: What good is a sitter who needs a sitter to make sure she isn't being sat with by undesirables? If you feel that your daughter needs "supervision" (and she obviously does) you shouldn't allow her to "sit" with other people's children.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a young man who lives with his Grandma. She raised him because both his parents are dead.

He has asked me to marry him. I said yes. Now he tells me that he is expecting to have his Grandma live with us after we are married. I have heard that a third party is no good for a married couple. Should I call the whole thing off and look for somebody without a Grandma or should I take her in? She has nowhere else to go.

DEAR GERTIE: If you have any second thoughts about whether to "take in" his Grandma, do yourself (and the young man) a favor and call off the marriage Bear in mind this "Grandma" raised the boy. If you really loved him, there would be no thought of "looking for someone without a Grandma."

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a

Sir Thomas Beecham Weds His Secretary

LONDON (AP) — Sir Thomas Beecham, the petulant patriarch of the podium, wound up a satisfactory recording of Handel's "The Great Elopement." Then the 80-year-old British maestro and his 27-year-old secretary, Shirley Hudson, left the study together—and eloped.

Sir Thomas, conductor of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, is as irascible as ever whether performing or expounding his views on things and people. Friends described his bride as a tranquilizing influence who may finally tame him. She is his third wife.

MAIN STREET, KALAMAZOO, MICH.—The nation's first full-scale effort to lure shoppers back downtown from suburban shopping centers, the shopping mall on one of the main downtown streets in Kalamazoo, Mich., is open for business. It is the first permanently-built mall in the U. S. Pavement for two blocks in the heart of the city was replaced by multi-colored cement blocks, grass, trees, shrubs, flowers and reflector pools. There are also a park with swings, slides and other toys for children, and a revolving stage for entertainment and fashion shows.

"SOGNE, NORWAY"—Mr. and Mrs. Kristian Rasmussen (lower right) announce the marriage Aug. 22 of their daughter Anne Marie to Steven Rockefeller (upper right) in the church (lower left) in Sogne. The bridegroom is the son of Gov. and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller (upper left) of New York. That might be the way it would read in Norwegian papers, only it's played up.

LIVED WITH HEAD HUNTERS—Two California girls who spent two months in missionary work among Peruvian head hunters display their souvenirs in Lima. Janet Pugh (left), 19, Red Bluffs, holds a chief's headdress. Shirley Hauser, 22, Oakland, holds dart "guns." They said the head hunters were very peaceful while they worked among them.

SPEED DEMONESS—Auto engineers must wish they could build as smooth curves into their cars as those which Edith Jacobs, 18, is endowed. The streamlined speedstress is shown ready to try out her souped-up convertible on Detroit's new Dragway, built for heavy-tooted motorists.

WORLD'S LARGEST—The world's largest crucifix towers 31 feet at unveiling ceremonies in Indian River, Mich., site of a Catholic shrine. Some 9,000 persons stood in rain at the rite.

DAM SHAKY—This is Hebgen dam across the Madison river in Montana. Note the crack in the earth, running almost up to the dam. It was feared the fill would give way.

MURDER WITNESS?—Stretched out on a bunk in a jail cell in Columbia, Tenn., Mrs. Eula Mae Terry Menter claims she was with two men when they committed the unsolved slaying of the Grimes sisters in Chicago two years ago. Mrs. Menter was arrested on a drunk charge. The bodies of the young sisters, Patricia and Barbara, were found in 1957.

'GOOD GUYS' IN BAD?—Peter Breck (right), star of the TV western "Black Saddle," and his stand-in brother George Langhish in durand vile (that's the law, man) in Hollywood after an altercation with a doctor at Valley Receiving hospital. They had taken Peter's girl friend to the hospital and, somebody said, got angry at the doctor's questions. Later they were released—doctor wouldn't prosecute.

MESSED UP—The earthquake onslaught at Yellowstone National Park, Wyo., left this filling station flattened and the canned goods and other groceries topsy-turvy in this store.

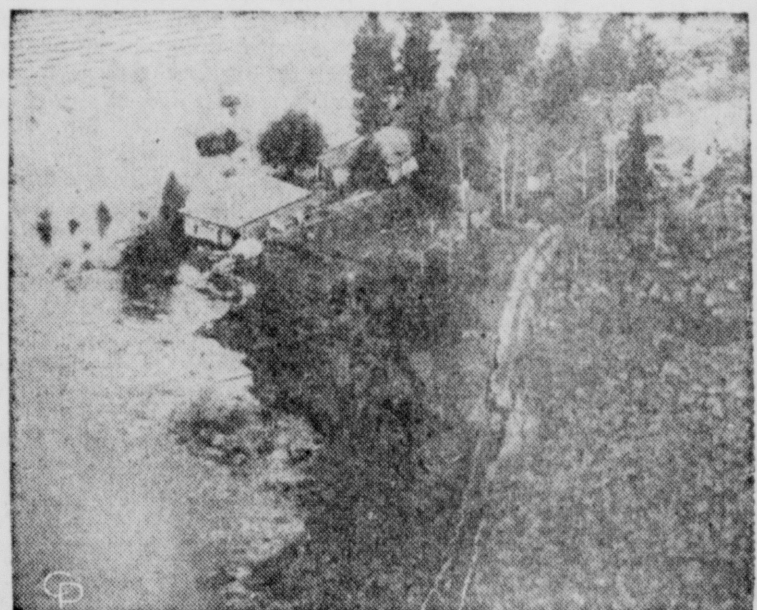

STAREWAY TO RELIEF—Oblivious of envious stares of passersby, Linda Bector, 20, of Brooklyn, N. Y., takes a foot-bath in a fountain in New York's Bryant park as she writes a letter on a 90-degree, high-humidity day.

RICH WIDOW'S BONES—State Criminologist David Burd displays lower jaw and dentures in Sacramento which he identifies as remains of Mrs. Pearl Putney, 72, who left Washington a year ago with ex-convict Larry Lord Motherwell (lower) 42, and $50,000 in cash and securities. Motherwell said he left her in Marysville, Calif. The bones were found in a logging camp 90 miles away.

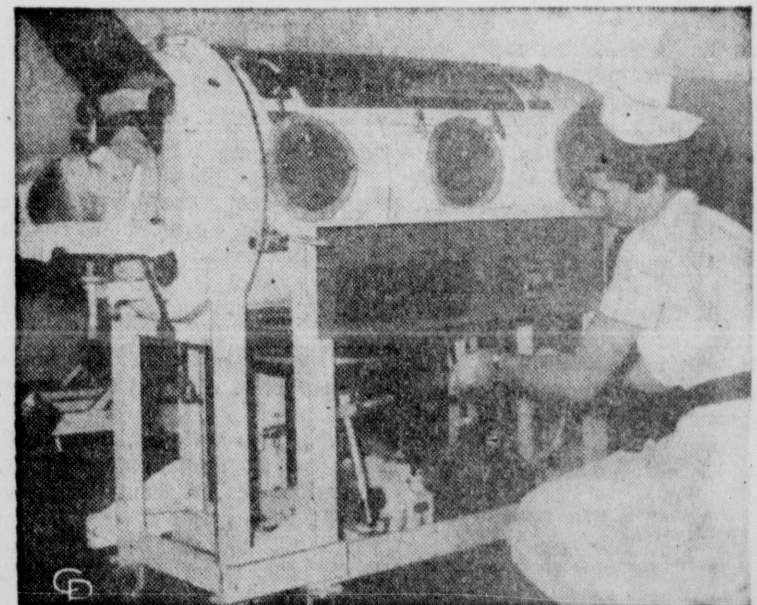

TRAFFIC BOTTLENECK—Spectators help clear the debris after a truck loaded with empty beer bottles crashed into a street car (left) in Copenhagen, Denmark. Traffic was brought to a standstill for hours by broken glass and cases.

CUT OFF—This summer house and car on Madison lake in Montana is cut off by earthquake cracks. A little move give and both car and house will slide into the water.

SANDMAN—Ralph Longo, 50, reaches for a rope as wet sand threatens to suffocate him in Long Island City, N. Y. His feet became wedged as a hopper took him 15 feet into an excavation. Sand piled near the wall slid over him and co-workers had to uncover his head twice before getting him out. Said Longo, "I'm all right. Let's get back to work."

ELECTRICITY PHHT!—Nurse Angela Bates uses a hand pump to power the iron lung for Philip Konigsberg, 8, at Mount Sinai hospital in New York, one of the many such emergency measures taken when some 500 blocks of upper Manhattan suddenly had no electricity. The heat, too many electric fans in use, etc., did in the circuit.

A Program without Promise

U. S. participation in the Inter-American Development Bank is about to begin by general consent. It sounds like a good idea to virtually everybody.

The bank is designed to provide credits to Western Hemisphere nations, chiefly Latin American, which have been unable to qualify for loans in private circles or in the World Bank which conducts its affairs on ability to repay.

Thus the Inter-American Bank will function in a region of extreme political instability, where popular movements are constantly springing up to overthrow governmental regimes, where runaway inflation is the rule and where conservative investors long ago threw up their hands in despair.

In the past 14 years few Latin American countries have been able to sell their bonds in the capital markets of the world.

If the Inter-American Bank can, by some miracle, make stabilizing loans in those countries that will put existing governments in better favor with the people, it may emerge from the program with few losses and much gain. But on the basis of bankable risks, the program opens without great promise.

We Must Grow Up

When I raised the question of conflict of interest among members of Congress, I had no intention of attacking of pillorying any particular senator or representative.

After all, the conflicts of interest are fairly universal and arise from the fact that Congress is intended to be representative of all classes and all elements in the country so that class legislation would be impossible, or at least difficult. That has not quite worked out to be so.

In showing how the conflict of interest works in relation to government subsidies, I mentioned Sen. Clinton Anderson and gave some figures. He has sent me a differing set of figures as correct. I herewith give his statement:

"If you desire, I will be happy to send you a photostat of a letter from the United States Department of Agriculture — Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, dated August 5, 1959, reviewing this situation.

"Briefly, it shows that the farm (Anderson's) received three wheat loans. My share of the 1956 loan was $1,506.87; of the 1957 loan it was $2,190.29; and of the 1958 loan it was $3,273.45. This does not check with my records on which I paid income tax. My figures for these years were as follows: 1956 — $1,502.85; 1957 — $2,184.40; 1958 — $3,263.58. That is because the Department deducts prepaid interest when making the loan. But taking the Department's figures, the total of the wheat loans was $6,970.61, all of which was repaid with interest and storage charges promptly.

"The only reason the loan was made was for the convenience of the tenant. He wanted to hold his grain from various farms — and he operates more than the one in which I am interested — and have an accounting all at one time. Therefore, all the wheat went under the loan, and whenever he wished to dispose of it it was sold. But all these loans were repaid with interest.

"The Dickson Preston article says that I received $19,377.55. I say that the most that could be claimed was that I received $6,970.61, and this was repaid with interest and storage charges, and was not for my convenience. The Department now admits the $6,970.61 figure is correct."

There is more detail. I shall not go further into this because it was never my intention to take the position that Sen. Anderson did anything crooked or involving moral turpitude.

My point was, in the previous article and it is now, that we insist that appointees to executive positions disclose their holdings and in some instances divest themselves of their possessions for which they may have labored all their lives. The case of Harold Talbot is pertinent. He was forced to resign from his position as Secretary of the Air Force because of a conflict of interest. He died in 1957 and it is now obvious that Harold Talbot was not what is these days called a rich man. He was driven from a useful public life because he wrote a letter of introduction from which he might or might not have profited.

I make the point that many members of Congress are lawyers, continuing their connections with law firms while they are members of Congress and benefiting by the earnings of such firms. In some instances, members of such firms appear before Congressional Committees or bureaucratic hearings where the fact that a member of the particular firm is also in Congress cannot and will not be ignored.

I made the point in a prior article, and I do so now, that this nation needs to mobilize its brain-power in the national interest. Much of that brain-power is today unavailable because many competent men decline to deprive themselves of their interests or leave their current work permanently for a temporary engagement in government activity.

Let us say that the government requires a highly experienced financier to negotiate a trade agreement with highly experienced European financiers. The European, or for that matter, the Asiatic or Latin American nations will recruit their best bankers and economists for such a task and send them to negotiate, without requiring them to divest themselves of the fruits of their labor.

We become involved in this conflict of interest absurdity.

Naturally, the highly experienced person will have done something before this government job, will be doing something after this job is finished, and will be associated with various interests.

My point is that we need to grow up.

Labor, Catholic Governors Pose Problems for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor leaders and Roman Catholic governors—who some might assume were his best rooters — are proving troublesome to the presidential aspirations of Stn. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The three governors are threatening to prevent Kennedy, also a Roman Catholic, from contesting for about 200 presidential nominating ballots he may need badly at next year's Los Angeles convention. These votes add up to nearly one-third of the 680-odd likely to be required to win the nomination.

The labor leaders, who loved him in April when he was fighting their battles against what they regarded as punitive labor control legislation, are cooling on him in August as the prospects increase for congressional approval of a strong labor bill.

The political blockade presented to Kennedy by the three Catholic governors, Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio and David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, may not be entirely insurmountable, in the view of Kennedy's friends.

Much as he would like to test his popularity in California, Kennedy obviously isn't going to cross Brown in the latter's determination to become at least a favorite son — and possibly a national candidate for the party's No. 1 nomination.

But the story may be different in the case of DiSalle and Lawrence. Unless his present intentions change, Kennedy is likely to challenge in the May 3 Ohio primary DiSalle's plan to control an uncommitted delegation as a favorite son.

It is no secret that Kennedy is miffed at what he regards as Lawrence's desire to hold a publicly uncommitted Pennsylvania delegation in reserve to support Adlai E. Stevenson if the latter's name comes up for the third time in the presidential nomination contest.

Kennedy is toying with the idea of entering the state's April 26 primary, despite the obvious drawbacks of such a move.

Moscow Says Russ Free on Radioing

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets are quite free to listen to foreign radio broadcasts, Radio Moscow said today.

"Not only are we allowed to hear foreign radio broadcasts but we do," said a commentator.

Practically every set on sale in the Soviet Union has a short-wave band, Moscow said, "and that means everybody has all the chance in the world to tune in to foreign broadcasts."

The broadcaster made no mention of the frequent Soviet jamming of Western programs.

Why Quit Smoking?

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
You've heard about people who give up smoking. There are some, you know.

Why do they do it? Not, apparently, for the reason you might think.

Surprisingly, all this talk about cancer and smoking hasn't made too great an impression on the general public. Oh, some of them have switched to filter-tip types, but they haven't stopped smoking. The American Cancer Society recently made a nationwide cross-section survey of 3,560 smokers. Of this number, 472, of 18.9 per cent, said they had given up the habit for one reason or another.

Only 1.2 per cent of the total group of present and past, chronic smokers said they had quite because of reports relating cigarette smoking to cancer.

The reason most often given for stopping was to halt coughing. Other reasons in the order in which they were most frequently cited included:

Throat, mouth and sinus troubles, shortness of breath, poor appetite or loss of weight, heart or circulatory difficulties, poor health in general, chest complaints, headaches, stomach trouble, asthma or hay fever and ulcers.

Now, there were other reasons, too. Some persons reported they "just quit." Some said they gave up smoking because they found it expensive or a nuisance.

Others said they broke the habit for religious reasons. And some reported they did it as a test of will power.

A very small percentage said they lost their desire to smoke. Most of these persons were pretty heavy smokers. Nearly half — 43.2 per cent — said they had smoked a day until they stopped entirely. Another 35.4 per cent had smoked about a pack each day.

And most of these persons said they inhaled moderately or very deeply. Only 6.9 per cent said they didn't inhale at all.

Now that we know why people give up smoking, the big question, of course, is how do they do it. And that, brother, really is a big question.

Question and Answer
Mrs. M. S.: What causes dryness of throat, mouth and lips in a diabetic?

Do all stout people have diabetes?

Answer: Dryness of the throat, mouth and lips in a diabetic is caused by chemical changes in the mucous membranes resulting from excess sugar in the system. Usually if the diabetes is controlled by diet and insulin, the symptoms disappear.

Although overweight people are more susceptible to diabetes, all fat people are by no means diabetic.

The boy emperor changed his name almost as often as he did his toga. He was born Varius Avitus, was crowned emperor as Marcus Aurelius Antoninus, then called himself Heliogabalus. Quite a lot of aliases even for a juvenile delinquent like Helio!

Helio ate off solid gold plates and slept on a bed of silver. That's living a life of luxury the hard way.

Helio's reign was short but terrific. He was through when only 18—however, he hadn't missed any of the high spots along the way.

It seems, to help pay for his extravagances, Helio cut his army officers' pay. The soldiers groused about it, but he just couldn't see their point — until one day they showed it to him. It was at the end of a sword.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — American leadership is showing a growing concern about the ability of this country—at the rate and in the way we are going—to keep up with Soviet progress.

Time was when Soviet claims to achievement were taken with a grain of salt in the United States.

That attitude began to change when the Soviets showed how far advanced they were, industrially and scientifically, first by making the atom bomb, then the hydrogen bomb, and then beating us into outer space with their Sputniks in 1957.

Earlier in the week this writer reported President Eisenhower:

1. Is concerned about the driving urge to get ahead which the Soviets seven-year plan is giving them.

2. Thinks this country needs an incentive toward harder work—something similar to the seven-year plan—which he believes is providing the Soviet people with the moral equivalent of war.

3. Feels Americans must be induced to work harder, think more of achievement, less of leisure and money.

Now comes the Draper committee—a 10-man group headed by the investment banker, William H. Draper Jr.—which sounds like a direct echo of the President.

Eisenhower created this committee to study the United States program of military assistance to other countries. Its report, made public Thursday, urged even bigger aid and went much beyond talking in terms of weapons alone.

The 10-man group sought to look at the Soviet challenge from many angles—its progress, its productive expansion, its goals, and its tactics—plus the need it creates for American efforts to match Soviet efforts.

The committee, noting the Soviets are maintaining a higher rate of growth than the United States in industrial production and in their technology and technical education, said:

"Their objective of equaling and exceeding the United States in selected areas of their own choosing has provided an unusual psychological stimulation to their people which we must more than match by dedication to our own cause."

"These trends in the Communist world cannot be ignored. They suggest the need for real concern about our present and prospective rates of progress which will determine our future ability to compete with communist states."

All this requires a positive individual and national dedication, greater emphasis on hard constructive work and thought, less rather than more emphasis on leisure, more rather than less application to our tasks."

The similarity between Eisenhower's thinking and the committee's statement may have been the result of the President's having ing seen the Draper report before it was made public.

But he was concerned about this problem of competition and incentives many months ago. He announced in his State of the Union message, last January he would create a committee to study and then propose national goals.

The Soviets' seven-year plan is in their case a national goal. Eisenhower is ready to name his committee as soon as he can find enough private organizations to finance its work. He doesn't want the government to foot the bill.

But neither Eisenhower nor the Draper committee has come up with an answer to the question they raise:

How can Americans—people in a free society — be induced to work harder and think less of leisure and money in order to compete with the Soviet people living under a dictatorship which can direct, control and compel them?

The dictatorship controls everything: People's lives; the work they do; where they work and on what and for how long; the luxuries they can have or must do without; their hours; prices; wages; and the means of production and distribution.

We may be entering a period of public-breast beating for our failures to do more and do without more. But self-flagellation is neither an answer nor a substitute for action.

Perhaps Eisenhower's committee on goals may produce suggestions for the old philosophical, but now very real, problem of how a free people, with all that means, can compete with a people controlled and centrally directed

UNDER CONTROL—It looks as if everything is hunky-dory in Los Angeles as the new Democratic national convention host committee joins in an all-around handshake with National Chairman Paul Butler. But the wounds may be deep, since Butler had his way in the "only 1,500 tickets" fuss, and L. A. had to make some other concessions. From left: Frank G. Bonelli, National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, Butler, Mayor Norris Poulson, Mark Boyer.

Ohio Airmen Complete Jet Training

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis. (AP)—Ohio's Air National Guard—heading home last night after two weeks at Volk Field here—took a kind of Perry Como approach to training this year.

And the pressure-off policy seems to have worked. Air Guard officials said today, despite at least two factors which might be expected to put the pressure on Ohio's jet fighter wing.

One was the use of a new training base for the first time since 1954. That was brought about by the second factor — expansion of training to include strafing, dive and skip bombing and rocketry. The base at Alpena, Mich., which Ohio used for five years, has no range nearby for such air-to-ground weapons work.

On top of that, rain at the end of the first week cut into the number of flying hours. It threatened to keep two of the three F84F Columbus and Springfield — from completing their training missions. The jet squadron from Mansfield flew more the first week and has a better chance to fulfill most of its training goal.

But it's generally agreed that a more relaxed attitude resulted in greater efficiency on the part of the 1,600 men who form Ohio's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing.

Author of the pressure-off policy is Col. Dale E. Shafer Jr. of Germantown, Ohio. He is commander of the 121st Wing and a pilot in civilian life for a paper-manufacturing corporation (Mead) which has headquarters in Dayton.

In command for the first time this year, Shafer told his men at the start of training that "we can get the job done, and still enjoy ourselves, by maintaining a reasonably relaxed atmosphere."

Cleveland Recording Boom in Ship Cargoes

CLEVELAND (AP)—Last month 22,081 tons of general packaged cargo moved over Cleveland docks, William J. Rogers, Cleveland port director, reported. That brought the season total to 58,536 tons of packaged cargo, plus thousands of tons of tallow, sulphur, fluorspar and other bulk cargoes handled on local docks. In all of the 1958 season total tonnage of all kinds was only 71,121. According to statistics from Miss Albina R. Cermak, U. S. customs collector, 312 ships have called at Cleveland this season so far, compared with 212 in all of last season.

Worship Every Week ---

'Cleansing of the Temple' Theme at First Baptist

"The Cleansing of the Temple" is the theme to be presented by the Rev. Paul White at the morning worship hour in the First Baptist Church. John 2:13-25 has been chosen for the scripture lesson.

We see in this scripture how an empty religion leads to open sin. The people profaned the temple of the holy God. A religion which doesn't transform life is not the true religion of Jesus Christ. The people of that day had made the place of worship a house of merchandise instead of a house of prayer.

Someone has said three things about the modern church. First, the church is turning from soul-winning to social service. Second, they are turning from prayer to the pantry. Third, they are turning from tithes to tables. There will be a new day for all of our churches when the members become soul-winners, prayer-conscious, and support the local and world-wide mission programs with their tithes. These three things will cause many to experience the love of Christ and at the same time curb atheistic communism.

Red U-Boat Claim Is Doubted in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Moscow claim that missile-shooting Soviet submarines could bombard American industrial centers from Hudson Bay appeared today to be more the idea of propagandists than of submarine warfare experts.

U.S. submarine specialists conceded it is not impossible submarines could enter Hudson Bay from under the arctic ice and then launch their missiles at intermediate range as claimed by the naval newspaper Soviet Fleet.

But the American specialists said waters and geography of the area make it one of the more unlikely spots for submarine operation.

The three major sources of financial aid to school students are individual colleges and universities, private colleges and universities, private nonacademic groups such as foundations and corporations and state and federal governments.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services.

Sunday School will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m. with classes for all age groups.

Mrs. Ronald List will be in charge of the Nursery in the Parish House during the 10:45 a. m. service.

Polio Cases Show Increase Of 13 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of paralytic polio cases increased by 13 per cent last week to 279. This is the highest weekly total since September 1956.

The rise, however, was not nearly as sharp as the 30 per cent jump for the previous week. In the week ended Aug. 8 there were 245 cases reported, including some delayed reports. That made it the highest week since September 1956.

Dr. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general of the Public Health Service, said the cases reported for the week ended Aug. 15 were widely scattered throughout the nation, the same pattern that had prevailed for several weeks.

From Jan. 1 through Aug. 15 there had been 1,839 paralytic cases reported. This compares with 784 in the similar 1958 span, 1,038 for the 1957 period, 3,329 in 1956, 3,649 in 1955 and 4,762 in 1954.

Manufacturers reported they released nearly three million doses of vaccine last week, 2,413,062 doses of straight Salk vaccine and 535,158 doses of quadruple vaccine which is for use only in children under 4 years old.

Stark Judges

Set Up Schedule

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County common pleas judges agreed in a meeting today to a series of re-assignments so that Judge Paul G. Weber will have none of the cases in which Virgil F. Mills is serving as an attorney.

The situation arose from affidavits of prejudice filed by the attorney against the judge. Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court conducted a hearing Monday and asked for a report on arrangements for shifting the assignments.

About 30 current cases, and any future ones, will be divided up by Judges John Rossetti and George N. Graham, so that Weber and Mills will not be in the same cases. In return, Weber is to take a corresponding amount of work from the other two judges.

Amana Church Due To Host German Royalty Next Week

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

German royalty, in the persons of the Prince and Princess of Ysenburg-Budingen, makes an appearance in Iowa next week to join in a salute to some old friends of the family—the Amana Church Society.

Amana, which began as a tight little religious commune and survived by separating church from state, observes its 100th anniversary Monday in its seven small villages about 20 miles southwest of Cedar Rapids.

The visiting prince is a descendant of an earlier German nobleman, a prince of Hesse, who gave refuge to the ancestors of the Amanists when they were persecuted as enemies of the established church.

The Amana Church Society, although it wasn't called that then, actually dates back more than 100 years. It began as a pietistic, separatist movement in Germany in the early 18th century.

Persecutions drove members to the United States where they settled first near Buffalo as the Eben Ezer Society and then in Iowa as Amana, which means "believe faithfully."

The 100th anniversary observes the day when the state of Iowa granted a charter to Amanists who founded the towns of Amana; East, Middle, High, South and West Amana — and purchased the nearby Village of Homestead.

Early Amana, like many other religious communities that later withered and died, was ruled by a board of elders who were all-powerful in both spiritual and temporal affairs.

All property was held in common. Clothing worn by men and women was plain and sober in color. The people ate communally in mess-hall-style buildings, the food prepared by the women.

Religious services, the most important events of the week, were held in meeting houses with white-washed walls, bare floors and unpainted benches. Members were required to attend 11 services a week.

Gradually, as changes in the outside world made themselves felt on Amana, the sober existence began to pall on its members. The communities began to lose people, particularly young people.

The elders of the society decided upon a drastic plan of reorganization. Church and state were separated into the Amana Church Society and the new Amana Society, a decidedly secular stock corporation.

Members used their stock to purchase their homes from the corporation. The communal dining halls were closed. Some of them reopened as inns and restaurants. All this happened as late as the 1930s.

On the spiritual side, most Amanists have retained the essentials of the religion and German culture brought to Iowa by their forebears. And that's why German nobility is taking part in next week's ceremony.

Strike Fund OK'd By Engineer Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — A strike fund assessment on 50,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today by the union's Advisory Board.

The board authorized collection of $2 a month from each member. Guy L. Brown, chief engineer, said the aim of the levy is to build a strike fund of several million dollars.

The brotherhood's agreements with 100 railroads expire Nov. 1. Brown and Secretary-Treasurer H. F. Hempy will decide when the assessment becomes effective.

The brotherhood pays strike benefits of $100 a month, plus $30 for a married man and $25 a month for each child under 18.

DADDY!
look at the pencil!

It was his first trip to Washington. He was only six. Everything had to be analyzed by the standards of a first-grader!

Tell him it's the Washington Monument . . . he still thinks of it as "The Pencil." Time for his parents to learn a lesson:

Suppose he had never seen a pencil. What would it have meant to him then? Probably nothing!

A child needs standards by which to measure all he encounters. The standards may be simple—but he uses them. With them he associates the things he wants to remember.

The Church provides your child with simple religious standards. He still needs your help to grasp the truth he must master. But the standards you and he learn at Church are the foundation of his character . . . the inspiration of your own. In his terms: the pencil with which tomorrow is written.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Amana Church Due To Host German Royalty Next Week

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

German royalty, in the persons of the Prince and Princess of Ysenburg-Budingen, makes an appearance in Iowa next week to join in a salute to some old friends of the family—the Amana Church Society.

Amana, which began as a tight little religious commune and survived by separating church from state, observes its 100th anniversary Monday in its seven small villages about 20 miles southwest of Cedar Rapids.

The visiting prince is a descendant of an earlier German nobleman, a prince of Hesse, who gave refuge to the ancestors of the Amanists when they were persecuted as enemies of the established church.

The Amana Church Society, although it wasn't called that then, actually dates back more than 100 years. It began as a pietistic, separatist movement in Germany in the early 18th century.

Persecutions drove members to the United States where they settled first near Buffalo as the Ebenzer Society and then in Iowa as Amana, which means "believe faithfully."

The 100th anniversary observes the day when the state of Iowa granted a charter to Amanists who founded the towns of Amana; East, Middle, High, South and West Amana — and purchased the nearby village of Homestead.

Early Amana, like many other religious communities that later withered and died, was ruled by a board of elders who were all-powerful in both spiritual and temporal affairs.

All property was held in common. Clothing worn by men and women was plain and sober in color. The people ate communally in mess-hall-style buildings, the food prepared by the women.

Religious services, the most important events of the week, were held in meeting houses with white-washed walls, bare floors and unpainted benches. Members were required to attend 11 services a week.

Gradually, as changes in the outside world made themselves felt on Amana, the sober existence began to pall on its members. The communities began to lose people, particularly young people.

The elders of the society decided upon a drastic plan of reorganization. Church and state were separated into the Amana Church Society and the new Amana Society, a decidedly secular stock corporation.

Members used their stock to purchase their homes from the corporation. The communal dining halls were closed. Some of them reopened as inns and restaurants. All this happened as late as the 1930s.

On the spiritual side, most Amanists have retained the essentials of the religion and German culture brought to Iowa by their forebears. And that's why German nobility is taking part in next week's ceremony.

Strike Fund OK'd By Engineer Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — A strike fund assessment on 50,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today by the union's Advisory Board.

The board authorized collection of $2 a month from each member. Guy L. Brown, chief engineer, said the aim of the levy is to build a strike fund of several million dollars.

The brotherhood's agreements with 100 railroads expire Nov. 1. Brown and Secretary-Treasurer H. F. Hempy will decide when the assessment becomes effective.

The brotherhood pays strike benefits of $100 a month, plus $30 for a married man and $25 a month for each child under 18.

DADDY!
look at the pencil!

It was his first trip to Washington. He was only six. Everything had to be analyzed by the standards of a first-grader!

Tell him it's the Washington Monument . . . he still thinks of it as "The Pencil." Time for his parents to learn a lesson:

Suppose he had never seen a pencil. What would it have meant to him then? Probably nothing!

A child needs standards by which to measure all he encounters. The standards may be simple—but he uses them. With them he associates the things he wants to remember.

The Church provides your child with simple religious standards. He still needs your help to grasp the truth he must master. But the standards you and he learn at Church are the foundation of his character . . . the inspiration of your own. In his terms: the pencil with which tomorrow is written.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Keep Children at Home for Summer Play

THERE'S FUN FOR ALL on the home grounds. While one older sister skips rope and the other is engrossed in a game of jacks, the baby of the family paddles in a plastic pool.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Exhausting! That's what watching children at play can be. They leave an adult wondering how they do it—running, jumping, hopping, skipping, scurrying about every single minute, or so it seems. But it's summer! With school out and all the day reserved for play, the kids are on the go every waking minute.

Leave 'em to their own devices and they either get bored or into trouble. Yet Mom can't drop everything to become a round-the-clock baby-sitter.

That's where toys come to the rescue. Properly chosen, they can keep youngsters happily engrossed and out of mischief.

The thing for Mom to remember, says the Toy Guidance Council, is that a child needs variety, because his attention and interest are, like the weather, subject to rapid change.

So stock up on a few things that will entertain Junior and Sis, leave you free to relax or run about getting housework done.

If you've a yard, invest in outdoor playthings.

An inflatable wading pool will give the kids a real cool time. Or, less expensive but most enjoyable are dime store buys such as jacks, jump ropes, pails and shovels, toy-type gardening tools.

Youngsters of all ages will go for a plastic version of the popular South American Jai Lai game. For two players, it comes with specially-shaped scoop-type rackets that catch and toss a plastic ball.

Baseballs and bats come in plastic, too, so your small King of Swat can hit home-runs to heart's content without breaking windows.

If summer's spent at the beach or lake, two new water toys are worth mentioning.

One's a junior fishing rod that's just like the "real" thing.

The other, a cross between a fire extinguisher and a guided missile, is a plastic pump and hose that shoots a stream of water into "outer space."

For little girls, there's a child-size tea table—easily portable—for sunny days out or rainy ones in. Four seats are permanently attached to the base of the table, which folds flat for storage or carrying. The table top, 20 inches in diameter, is removable.

We mentioned rainy days. Mom should keep them in mind and stock a supply of playthings to occupy restless shut-ins. Such toys and games are also most useful when youngsters are taken on long car trips.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jack Harshman, unable to hold jobs with two clubs because he couldn't win, now is Cleveland's surprise crutch, giving the Indians the left-handed pitching Herb Score was supposed to deliver in their run for the American League pennant.

Harshman's bad back led to a "damaged goods" squawk by Baltimore after a 1957 winter deal with the Chicago White Sox. But he stuck with the Orioles and won 12 last year, three of them shut-outs.

This season, his back still corseted, Harshman was 0-6 and the Birds traded him to Boston. He won two for the Red Sox, then lost three and they sold him to second-place Cleveland.

Now, with Cleveland scrambling to catch the White Sox, Harshman suddenly has won two, saved one and lost none—figuring in half of the Indians' six victories in their last 11 games.

The big southpaw, 32, won his second Friday night, blanking Baltimore on three singles for a 5-0 decision that gave the Indians a three-game streak and left them within 2½ games of Chicago.

The White Sox cut their slump at two, coming from behind for a 5-4 edge over Washington as reliever Gerry Staley won his sixth straight.

New York belted Kansas City 9-7, and Detroit beat Boston 2-0 on Paul Foytack's four-hitter and Al Kaline's two-run homer.

The White Sox scored two unearned runs in the first, then had to come from behind after the Senators chased Dick Donovan with two in the sixth for a 3-2 edge. Johnny Romano's two-run pinch single got back the lead for Staley (7-3) in the sixth.

Foytack (12-10) walked but one and struck out eight, allowing one hit after the second inning for his first victory over Boston in five decisions. Kaline's 22nd home run came in the third against Bill Monbouquette (4-5). It followed a walk to Harvey Kuenn.

The Yankees blew 2-0 and 5-3 leads, and finally needed Ryne Duren's save after the A's scored one in the ninth. With one out and the bases loaded, Duren struck out Joe DeMaestri and got Roger Maris on a foul.

It's been an odd season of success for Johnny Antonelli, San Francisco's lefty ace who was upset by "lousy fly balls," and who can't beat Milwaukee, yet is closing in on 20 victories for the first time in three years.

Since losing two straight three weeks ago (beaten by these fly balls that went for homers in the Giants' windy home park), Antonelli has won three of four decisions while San Francisco has jumped into the National League lead.

Antonelli tied Milwaukee's Lew Burdette for the major league lead with his 17th victory Friday night. He did it with an eight-hitter that put the opener away as San Francisco moved 2½ games ahead with a 6-0 and 10-6 twilight doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia.

Second-place Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-5, but the third-place Braves fell five games behind when their game with the Chicago Cubs was rained out. Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 2-1.

Clay Hoping For Match With Moore

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"We'd fight Archie Moore tomorrow, if we could, and very probably we will soon," said Von Clay's happy manager, Anthony Graziano.

"We're guaranteeing Yvon Durelle $10,000 to fight Clay on Oct. 9 in Philadelphia," announced promoter Herman Taylor and matchmaker Pete Moran.

It seemed like optimistic talk regarding a 29-year-old fighter with only 11 pro fights, but that was the mood Friday night after Clay finished off Sonny Ray, the fourth-ranked lightweight, in 56 seconds of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The decisive victory, in his first nationally televised (NBC) fight, meant that Clay had reached the top ranks of his division — and Ray's comments reflected the blow dealt to his career.

Three tentatively scheduled fights, the 23-year-old Chicagoan said, without going into detail, probably will have to be cancelled.

Ray, with a 19-8-5 record now, figured that the bad cut over his left eye was the reason Referee Zack Clayton stopped the fight.

Clay has one draw and has won eight of his 10 victories by knockouts or TKOs.

39 Break Par In Akron Open

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The $22,000 Rubber City Open bangs into its third round today with 39 of 63 surviving professionals under par for 36 holes.

Heading the list of 63 professionals and 11 amateurs who survived Friday's cutoff was Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., who tacked together a pair of 66s for a 10-under-par 132 and a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark.

On his heels was Gardner Dickinson Jr.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., the defending champion, skidded to a 73 Friday after an opening 67 for a 140. Dow Fensterwald of Athens, Ohio, and Tequesta, Fla., who tied Wall last year and lost in a sudden death playoff, was a stroke ahead of Wall with a 70-69-139.

J. M. Pilot Favorite for Buckeye Pace

An early favorite for this year's Ohio State Fair Buckeye State Pace is J. M. Pilot, owned by Circleville Horseman Porter Martin.

The Martin standard bearer owns seven consecutive wins this season and has posted eight victories in 13 trips to the gate. The pace, for a purse of possibly $26,500, will be raced September 1, with 115 eligibles remaining.

More than $114,000 in purse money goes on the line this week as the biggest harness racing program in the long history of the Fair gets underway Saturday afternoon, August 29. Five afternoons of harness racing are programmed, running through Thursday, September 3.

A total of 337 two and three-year-old trotters and pacers remain eligible for the four colt stakes divisions that go postward, one each afternoon starting Monday, August 31. Full fields and fast times can be expected in each division, with the lure of near $25,000 purse values attracting top candidates from all over the nation.

TO BE eligible, a trotter or pacer must have been bred, sired, or owned in Ohio. In addition, a schedule of sustaining payments had to be met. All races are U. S. Trotting Association approved.

Considered the "glory" race of the meet is the Governor's Cup Trot for 3-year-olds. Rich in tradition, this race has an estimated purse value of over $20,000 for its '59 renewal on Thursday, September 3. Among the 56 eligibles are several name horses including Miss Coalton, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Falter, Columbus.

The other two colt races will go for about $23,000. Ohioans may get a look at the sensational Countess Adios in the September 2 meeting of the Director of Agriculture Pace. Holder of a 2:02 2-5 mile this year, the free legged daughter of an Ohio owned brood-mare, Countess Vivian, currently holds the two-year-old mark for the season.

More than 80 two-year-old trotters remain on the list for the Ohio State Trot, first of the stakes. This event is featured on Monday, August 31.

A minimum of eight heats will go to the mobile starting gate each afternoon.

Browns Set For Test of Lions '11'

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns and the Detroit Lions, both still testing their rookie talent, meet tonight in an exhibition here.

Veteran Tobin Rote is to start at quarterback for Detroit while for the Browns, Jim Ninowski will handle the passing chores. Milt Plum, regular Browns quarterback last year, probably will see some action.

The Browns haven't even had an all-out scrimmage since Aug. 1, when they lost to Pittsburgh 34-20. Detroit has played two exhibitions, tying Los Angeles and losing to the Chicago Cardinals.

One difference from the exhibition at Pittsburgh will be Bobby Mitchell. The fleet halfback, just out of the Army, reported to the Browns' training camp at Hiram Thursday. He probably will see action tonight.

Among the rookies Coach Paul Brown will be watching is Dick LeBeau, former Ohio State star, who will be at corner back on defense. Brown also wants a look at Bob Placek at fullback.

Francis O'Brien of Michigan State, who has had only five days of work with the Browns, will be at offensive tackle.

Tigers Work at Steady Clip In Preparation for Opener

Practice sessions twice daily at the S. Court St. Elementary School is the current main item of business for Circleville High School's football squad.

The Tiger gridders worked at a steady pace Thursday and Friday despite hot and humid weather which has prompted several players to leave the squad. Only one practice was slated today, a morning session.

Approximately 49 candidates picked up uniforms this week. Coach Carl Benhase said additional hopefuls are expected by the time school starts.

The most discouraging factor for Coach Benhase was the fact that only about 16 freshmen to date have reported for equipment. He said that he hopes more frosh will be on hand by the opening day of school.

DRILLS so far have centered on basic fundamentals such as calisthenics, passing, kicking, ball handling and proper stances, starts and stops for linemen.

The sweltering heat played a part in slowing down early enthusiasm, but the gridders remaining on the squad gave all indications of whipping into solid physical condition despite the 90-plus temperature.

Coach Benhase said plenty of work is in store before his charges are ready for the season opener September 18 at Athens.

Adios Butler Wins $110,994 Pace in Near Record Time

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Adios Butler, the heavy favorite closed with a stretch rush won the $110,994 Messenger stakes in near world record time at Roosevelt Raceway before a crowd of 33,931.

The mile time of 2:00.1 broke the track record, and was within one-fifth of a second world clocking for a 3-year-old pacer on a half-mile track.

Adios Butler, driven by Clint Hodgins, beat Meadow Al by a length in a scorching finish, after being boxed in along the rail until the final eighth of a mile.

The early pacesetter, Adios Oregon, was a head behind the fast closing Meadow Al for third place. Right Time was fourth in the field of nine.

The finish was a sensational tribute to the great stallion Adios. The first three under the wire were sired by Adios, who stands at the Meadow Lands, Farm, in Southwestern Pennsylvania.

Ohio Girl Sparkles In Golf Tourney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Odds are strong that Judy Rand will be a familiar golfing name in the coming years.

Judy, a 16-year-old stocky brunette from the Cleveland suburb of Aurora, is the new National Girls' golf champion.

By routing Marcia Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., 5 and 3, at Manor Country Club Friday, Miss Rand joined some distinguished company. Previous winners of this U. S. Golf Assn. event for girls 17 and under include Mickey Wright, Marlene Bauer Hagge, JoAnne Gunderson, Wiffi Smith, Pat Lesser and Judy Ellner.

Victory in the Girls' National automatically qualified Judy for the Women's National at nearby Congressional Country Club next week.

Ice Plus Heat Halt Basketball

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ice was blamed for postponement Friday night of an exhibition by the U.S. basketball team preparing for the Pan-American Games.

Ice, plus heat and humidity. The ice was under the temporary basketball floor at the Sports Arena. This is nothing new. Basketball games have been played over ice before.

But with the temperature in the 90s here, condensation formed. The U. S. team and members of the Cleveland National Industrial Basketball League team slipped around for about 15 minutes in a pre-game warmup before the contest was called off and money refunded to 791 customers.

Rookie Hurler Hook Praised By Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—You can't blame the Cincinnati Reds for babbling praise about rookie pitcher Jay Hook.

"The kid looks like money in the bank," says Manager Freddie Hutchinson.

Hook showed talent Friday night in a five-hit 2-1 victory over St. Louis.

When Hutch took over the pitching-poor Reds at midseason, he already had had Hook work under him at the Reds' Seattle farm club.

"I was worried as to what he would do with his breaking stuff," said Hutch. "He had trouble keeping it in the strike zone at Seattle."

But the Reds decided on a gamble and brought the sober, 22-year-old righthander up for a major league trial.

Hook has learned his lessons patiently and carefully. He went all the way to victory over Chicago in his first start July 18.

Then he started taking his lumps. But Friday's triumph evened his mark at 3-3.

It was also Hook's first major league hit, a single, that kept the Reds' only scoring rally moving along Friday night.

It came in the fifth inning when Cardinal starter Larry Jackson began to waver a trifle.

Ed Kasko led the uprising off with a one-out single, and Hook followed with his safety. Johnny Temple grounded out but Vada Pinson came through with a single to tie the score, 1-1.

Gus Bell singled in Hook with the deciding marker.

Onetime OU Grid Coach Dies at 85

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Arthur L. McFarland, 85, onetime head football coach of Ohio University at Athens, died Friday in a Martins Ferry Hospital after a long illness.

McFarland, a native of Springfield, attended Washington & Jefferson College and West Virginia University. He played football at W. & J. and later as a professional.

He coached at Ohio U. for three years before turning to real estate and the bus line business.

Redskin Gridders Looking Very Good

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The way things look to Coach Michael Nixon, this is the best looking Washington Redskins squad in several years.

Nixon, who succeeded Joe Kuharich, has been with the Redskins as backfield coach since 1954 and he's confident that last year's record of 4-7-1 will be vastly improved upon in 1959.

Both Nixon and Los Angeles Rams Coach Sid Gillman had to regard Friday night's exhibition as a "must" to win; more so for the Rams as a prestige thing for the homefolks.

The "Skins, Nixon believes, have far better over-all depth, good veteran personnel and a handful of good rookies of either immediate or future value.

Star of the show is quarterback Eddie LeBaron, the dynamic 5-foot-7, 160-pounder who led the National Football League passer last year and is already off to a superb start this year.

Two rookies figure prominently in plans at this stage, linebacker Art Gob, a 225-pounder from Pittsburgh, and tackle Don Lawrence, 240, from Notre Dame.

Top offensive backfield talent includes halfbacks Dick James and Jim Podoley, and fullbacks Johnny Olszewski and Don Bosser.

Ready to step in for LeBaron are Notre Dame's ex-star, Ralph Guglielmi, and Eagle Day, a newcomer from Mississippi by way of Winnipeg in Canadian football.

Offensive end favorites are veterans Bill Anderson and Joe Walton.

Defensive stalwarts include veteran Chuck Draznovich and defensive end John Paluck.

Other name-players to remember include Bob Toney, 250, giant tackle acquired from San Francisco; place kicker Sam Baker, and a couple of players currently on the injury list, halfback Bert Zagers and rookie lineman Joe Nicely from West Virginia.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jack Harshman, unable to hold jobs with two clubs because he couldn't win, now is Cleveland's surprise crutch, giving the Indians the left-handed pitching Herb Score was supposed to deliver in their run for the American League pennant.

Harshman's bad back led to a "damaged goods" squawk by Baltimore after a 1957 winter deal with the Chicago White Sox. But he stuck with the Orioles and won 12 last year, three of them shut-outs.

This season, his back still corseted, Harshman was 0-6 and the Birds traded him to Boston. He won two for the Red Sox, then lost three and they sold him to second-place Cleveland.

Now, with Cleveland scrambling to catch the White Sox, Harshman suddenly has won two, saved one and lost none—figuring in half of the Indians' six victories in their last 11 games.

The big southpaw, 32, won his second Friday night, blanking Baltimore on three singles for a 5-0 decision that gave the Indians a three-game streak and left 'em within 2½ games of Chicago.

The White Sox cut their slump at two, coming from behind for a 5-4 edge over Washington as reliever Gerry Staley won his sixth straight.

New York belted Kansas City 9-7, and Detroit beat Boston 2-0 on Paul Foytack's four-hitter and Al Kaline's two-run homer.

The White Sox scored two unearned runs in the first, then had to come from behind after the Senators chased Dick Donovan with two in the sixth for a 3-2 edge. Johnny Romano's two-run pinch single got back the lead for Staley (7-3) in the sixth.

Foytack (12-10) walked but one and struck out eight, allowing one hit after the second inning for his first victory over Boston in five decisions. Kaline's 22nd home run came in the third against Bill Monbouquette (4-5). It followed a walk to Harvey Kuenn.

The Yankees blew 2-0 and 5-3 leads, and finally needed Ryne Duren's save after the A's scored one in the ninth. With one out and the bases loaded, Duren struck out Joe DeMaestri and got Roger Maris on a foul.

It's been an odd season of success for Johnny Antonelli, San Francisco's lefty ace who was upset by "lousy fly balls," and who can't beat Milwaukee, yet is closing in on 20 victories for the first time in three years.

Since losing two straight three weeks ago (beaten by these fly balls that went for homers in the Giants' windy home park), Antonelli has won three of four decisions while San Francisco has jumped into the National League lead.

Antonelli tied Milwaukee's Lew Burdette for the major league lead with his 17th victory Friday night. He did it with an eight-hitter that put the opener away as San Francisco moved 2½ games ahead with a 6-0 and 10-6 twinned doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia.

Second-place Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-5, but the third-place Braves fell five games behind when their game with the Chicago Cubs was rained out. Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 2-1.

Clay Hoping For Match With Moore

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"We'd fight Archie Moore tomorrow, if we could, and very probably we will soon," said Von Clay's happy manager, Anthony Graziano.

It seemed like optimistic talk regarding a 29-year-old fighter with only 11 pro fights, but that was the mood Friday night after Clay finished off Sonny Ray, the fourth-ranked lightweight, in 56 seconds of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The decisive victory, in his first nationally televised (NBC) fight, meant that Clay has reached the top ranks of his division — and Ray's comments reflected the blow dealt to his career.

Three tentatively scheduled fights, the 23-year-old Chicagoan said, without going into detail, probably will have to be cancelled.

Ray, with a 19-8-5 record now, figured that the bad cut over his left eye was the reason Referee Zack Clayton stopped the fight.

Clay has one draw and has won eight of his 10 victories by knockouts or TKOs.

Onetime OU Grid Coach Dies at 85

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Arthur L. McFarland, 85, onetime head football coach of Ohio University at Athens, died Friday in a Martins Ferry Hospital after a long illness.

Redskin Gridders Looking Very Good

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The way things look to Coach Michael Nixon, this is the best looking Washington Redskins squad in several years.

Nixon, who succeeded Joe Kuharich, has been with the Redskins as backfield coach since 1954 and he's confident that last year's record of 4-7-1 will be vastly improved upon in 1959.

Both Nixon and Los Angeles Rams Coach Sid Gillman had to regard Friday night's exhibition as a "must" to win; more so for the Rams as a prestige thing for the homefolks.

The 'Skins, Nixon believes, have far better over-all depth, good veteran personnel and a handful of good rookies of either immediate or future value.

Star of the show is quarterback Eddie LeBaron, the dynamic 5-foot-7, 160-pounder who led the National Football League passers last year and is already off to a superb start this year.

Two rookies figure prominently in plans at this stage, linebacker Art Gob, a 225-pounder from Pittsburgh, and tackle Don Lawrence, 240, from Notre Dame.

Top offensive backfield talent includes halfbacks Dick James and Jim Podoley, and fullbacks Johnny Olszewski and Don Bos-seler.

Ready to step in for LeBaron are Notre Dame's ex-star, Ralph Guglielmi, and Eagle Day, a newcomer from Mississippi by way of Winnipeg in Canadian football.

Offensive end favorites are veterans Bill Anderson and Joe Walton. Defensive stalwarts include veteran Chuck Drazenovich and defensive end John Paluck.

Other name-players to remember include Bob Toney, 250, giant tackle acquired from San Francisco; place kicker Sam Baker, and a couple of players currently on the injury list, halfback Bert Zagers and rookie lineman Joe Nicely from West Virginia.

Buffalo held its 7½ game league lead while beating Rochester 5-1. Al Jackson's seven-hitter stopped Havana for Columbus, 6-0, and Rene Valdes also came up with a shutout, scattering seven hits in Montreal's 4-0 triumph over Toronto.

Columbus pulled a game ahead of Havana in the race for second place as Jackson fattened his record to 13-3.

LAKEVIEW, Ohio (AP)—The new Majorette Princess of America Lynn Blomendahl, 14, of Goodland, Kan. Miss Blomendahl was selected Friday at the ninth annual international majorette contest.

ASIA BURSTING IS UN WARNING—This map illustrates the UN economic commission report that more than half the world's population lives in one-sixth of the world's land area. Of the world's 2,377,000,000 people, 1,462,000,000 live in this one-sixth. The population of this region projected to 1975 indicates 2,300,000,000, and 3,700,000,000 by the year 2000. This indicated growth far outstrips other regions of the world. The report warns of have-not economic conditions now prevailing, and indicates they are likely to worsen under an expanding population. U.S. Track, Field, Swim Teams in Pan-Am Are Lauded

CHICAGO (AP) — The head coaches of Uncle Sam's male track and field and swimming teams called their squads "tremendous" today and said they expected records to be shattered in every direction in the Pan-American Games.

Both Chick Werner, of Penn State, the athletics chieftain, and Charles McCaffrey Jr., of Michigan State, the swimming top kick, predicted a huge harvest of gold medals for the United States in the third Western Hemisphere sports show, Aug. 27-Sept. 7.

"Our swim team is the greatest every assembled by the United States," said McCaffrey. "I think every Pan-American record will be broken."

"Probably the greatest team ever put together," was Werner's comment about his mighty squad. "Most of the Pan-American records will be broken."

The competition among the United States entries will be fierce. Almost to a man they're aiming for gold medals here and a foot-in-the door for the 1960 Olympic Team.

The swimmers are headed by recent world record breakers Mike Troy (butterfly) and Frank McKinney (backstroke) of Indiana, and 18-year-old Alan Somers, the Indianapolis schoolboy who posted the second fastest 1,500 meters ever.

The track and fielders include three 1955 Pan-American champs in 400-meter hurdler Josh Culbreath, shot putter Parry O'Brien and hammer thrower Bob Backus; and seven 1956 Olympic gold medalists in O'Brien, hurdlers Lee Calhoun and Glenn Davis, discus thrower Al Oeter, hammer thrower Harold Connolly, high jumper Charlie Dumas and broad jumper Greg Bell.

'MIGHT' RUN—New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, in a press conference in Albany which was supposed to be concerned with his son's wedding in Norway but which somehow got around to politics, says he "might" seek the Republican presidential nomination. That would be if he was convinced he could "deal effectively and constructively with problems facing the nation," Rockefeller said.

DiSalle Averages 77 Hours Of Office Work per Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If long hours mean anything, Ohio is getting its money's worth out of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The average Joe who works his regular 40 hours a week for 50 weeks a year puts in 2,000 hours a year on the job.

Mike DiSalle spent about 2,325 hours in his office in his first 30 weeks as governor—about 77½ a week.

His regular daily schedule, Monday through Friday, kept him in his office from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., with 2½ hours out for meals. He slowed down on weekends, working only nine hours on Saturdays and six on Sundays.

Strangely, the pace had practically no outward effect on the jovial disposition of the rotund, energetic governor. Apparently he thought so little about it he didn't even bother to keep a running score of the hours he spent on the job before he started on his current 10-day speech-writing "vacation."

At the request of The Associated Press, a DiSalle aide dug back in the governor's daily log to come up with the figures.

The aide's examination of the log showed the governor conferred with approximately as many individuals or groups as he spent hours in the office. The aide estimated DiSalle had about 2,250 conferences, 15 a day or 75 a week on the average.

On top of that, DiSalle held 175 news conferences in the 30 weeks. He held his 100th news conference on his 100th day in office, but he slowed down a bit after that.

In addition, Statehouse police estimate the governor greeted 33,000 visiting school pupils from 79 counties, an average of more than 1,000 a week.

The minimum attorney fee in Columbus is $20 an hour, out of which the lawyer must meet his overhead. If a governor put in a normal 40-hour week, his $25,000 annual salary would pay him at the rate of $12.50 an hour. But a governor who works 77½ hours a week draws only $6.45 an hour for his services.

Death has taken from the Ohio political scene Cleveland's James

L. E. Jappe, the diminutive confidant for two-score years of those in high government posts.

The keen-witted bachelor—a one-time press agent who became an attorney—was known as an effective representative of various causes in the Legislature.

The Ohio State Journal commented editorially this week on Jappe's passing:

"He was a trusted associate of prominent Ohio and national political figures. There was scarcely a legislator or other public official or legislative newspaperman in state circles in the past 35 years and more, be he Republican or Democrat, who did not look upon Jimmy as a friend."

"Jimmy served his Republican Party well. He was a highly ethical representative for the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and other organizations and he frequently worked for any legislation he believed was in the public interest."

"He will be sorely missed in the Columbus scene and around the Statehouse."

'Miss Universe' Contest Changed

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—That annual beauty blowout known as the Miss Universe Pageant has been getting the big buildup here for years.

Now it's getting the boot.

The city announced Thursday night that it will start a new contest—called the International Beauty Congress—next year.

And, in the same bold breath, it said contestants in the new show won't even appear in swimsuits.

"I think there has been too much emphasis on figure beauty in these contests," said Oscar Meinhardt, who produced all eight of the Miss Universe programs and who will produce the new setup.

Ohio Idle Pay Claims Continuing Increase

4-H Club News

Competing in the 4-H "agricultural" demonstrations at the Ohio State Fair will be three teams and one individual from Pickaway County. The youth will be trying to win trips to either Ohio 4-H Club Congress, National 4-H Club Congress, or the National Dairy Conference.

Cheryl Martin, Perry Jr. Livestock 4-H club, is the sole individual demonstrating with her topic dealing with "Produce Quality Milk by Keeping Clean Equipment".

"First Aid" will be the center of activity for the demonstration to be given by Linda Sharpe and Peggy Clark. Both girls are members of the Deercreek Busy Bees 4-H club.

Members from the Pickaway County Soil Savers 4-H club will be giving a demonstration on "Contour Farming and Cover Crops". Andy Duvall and Jerry Vance who developed this demonstration are officers in this new 4-H club.

"Preparing the Mower for Use" will be what Ralph England and Norman Wilson will be doing in their demonstration at the Ohio State Fair. These fellows are members of the Scioto Valley Machinery club.

LARRY MCKENZIE and Robert Bower, of the Pickaway Livewires, will have their 4-H electric projects on exhibit at the Ohio State Fair.

The exhibits may be found in the 4-H Club Building.

The First Year Tractor Club recently held a picnic at Lake Hope. Nearly all of the members and their families attended this event and all enjoyed the outing very much. The club advisor is Frank Lands.

Safety Community Night was held at the Monroe Township School at Five Points recently. The Monroe Stitches and Bakettes and the Future Farmers of Monroe put on a safety program. The program consisted of the following: singing of the Star Spangled Banner, 4-H pledge led by James Shell. Demonstrations were given by the following: Sue Dennis and Lorena Blair on "It Could Happen To You", James Shell and Ernie Lindsey on "Safety Around the Farm", Carolyn Wright on "My First Aid Kit". Joanna Hunsinger gave a safety speech on "Why Observe Safety".

Guest speaker for the evening was Darrell Hatfield, Chairman of Safety Lanes and Awards Committee. He stressed the safety point that if the man behind the wheel would follow three rules most accidents could be eliminated. The rules — 1. more care 2. more alertness 3. more respect for the right of others.

He read a quotation from a doctor in a hospital on December 2, 1917 that went as follows: "There is nothing this country needs more than discipline. We have plenty of good laws but very spotty enforcement. The average citizen has fallen into the habit of obeying such laws as he finds convenient."

"I venture the opinion that the auto has had much to do with making people inconsiderate. Many naturally rude fellows will impose on other people when he is behind a steering wheel where they can't get to him. The bigger the crowd he is on foot the more bravely independent he is on wheels."

Hatfield went on to say that even though this quotation was some 40 years old people have not changed, cars have been made safer, roads better, traffic control has improved, but the slaughter continues to mount.

TO CONCLUDE the program two safety films were shown. One was on "Vacation Safety" and the other on "Drivers of Tomorrow".

The Williamsport 4-H clubs along with the parents and people of the community were invited to attend.

Tea and cookies were served at the conclusion of the program.

Red Probers Drop Case in California

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities will cancel hearings scheduled Oct. 14 for the investigation of communism in the California school system.

Subpoenas issued for some 60 or 70 California teachers also will be canceled.

The committee plan became known as a result of a letter sent by Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) to Arthur F. Corey, state executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn.

Corey, in a letter to Walter dated Aug. 17, objected to delays in the hearings and protested that the names of many of the teachers involved had been made public.

Corey suggested that under the law district boards of education should be given such information as the committee may have and be permitted to suspend or dismiss the teachers who cannot give satisfactory answers to questions put to them.

In his reply, Walter said he welcomed the suggestion to transmit to the district boards "the names of such teachers so that they may be interrogated by such boards which would then transmit to the committee the copy of the transcript of the proceedings."

Walter said that such a course of action will permit the committee to go into certain other aspects of Communist operations in California.

Committee aides said this will mean that the California teachers hearings will be crossed off the committee schedule and subpoenas canceled.

Selection of an Ohio Pork Queen will be one of the highlights of the Ohio Pork Picnic to be held at the Clinton County Fairgrounds, September 12.

Every county in Ohio is eligible to enter a candidate in the contest. The Pickaway County elimination will be Monday at the county Fairgrounds. To be eligible a girl must be between 17 and 21 years old on November 1, 1959.

Candidates must live on a farm where swine are raised and give orally a two-minute essay on one of the following topics: "How To Promote More Pork Consumption"; "The Value of Pork in Nutrition"; "What the Housewife Can Do To Help the Pork Market"; or any other subject pertaining to the pork industry.

Pork queen candidates should present themselves in "dress-up" rather than in formal attire. Judging will be based on beauty and personality, essay contest and presentation and poise.

The winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago in November to represent Ohio in a National Pork Queen contest. Second prize will be $50, third and fourth $20.

Entries in the county contest must be made in the county extension office by August 21.

The contest is being sponsored by the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn., the Ohio Swine Breeders and Feeders Assn., the Ohio Swine Improvement Assn., and the Clinton County Swine Improvement Committee.

Where Does GI Gripping End, Disrespect for Service Begin?

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP)—Where does a soldier's grumbling end and disrespect for his uniform begin?

The question formed a backdrop today to the latest psychological cold skirmish between the Army and some of its soldier-scientists at the super-secret chemical center here.

Army investigators questioned five college-trained GIs who admitted Thursday they attended an Aug. 13 beer party featuring such songs as "Down With the Army."

Texas Couple Accused of Starving Son

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A couple was charged Thursday with starving their 2-month-old son to death.

"I hope God forgives you for what you've done," said Justice of the Peace Albert Trevino as he set the bonds for Manuel Quesada, 55, and Francisca Martinez Quesada, 39, on murder charges.

Dr. Robert Hausman, county medical examiner, said the couple's baby, Juan, died of malnutrition Wednesday.

Detective Frank Castillon told of finding the body of the baby wrapped in a cotton blanket.

He said a city health nurse took milk to the mother for the baby and urged medical attention. The mother said she had no money to pay a doctor.

"Although they couldn't afford a doctor for the child," Castillon testified, "I noticed a large 21-inch television set in one of the rooms."

The parents are accused in the complaint of "voluntarily killing Juan Quesada" by neglecting him and refusing to give him enough food.

The Quesadas told police they gave away 8 of their 11 children, born in the past 13 years. Two others are staying with a grand-mother.

One of the five is Pfc. Christopher W. Dungan of 59½ 4th St., Marietta, Ohio.

Still being sought are about 55 more celebrants at the party held at a nearby inn. An Edgewood spokesman said officials received complaints about the singing of vulgar anti-Army verses at the beer bust.

"Somewhere along the line," said Brig. Gen. Harold Walsmsley, Edgewood commander, "American parents and educational systems have failed to instill in these men an appreciation for their heritage and the desire to perform duties for their country."

Because the 60 or so attended the party in civilian clothes, all members of the soldier-scientist detachment were ordered to a special formation in Mufli.

Walsmsley cancelled the scheduled lineup but the GIs took no chances. Most of them turned out wearing white shirts with sleeves rolled up, which would have made identification more difficult.

The formation was marched to a post theater, where an hour-long lecture on the code of military discipline was delivered by the Edgewood legal officer. He asked participants in the Aug. 13 party to stay when the lecture was over. One did and four others turned themselves in about two hours later, an Army spokesman said.

"No charges have been filed yet," he added. "The investigation is continuing."

After a similar incident at Edgewood last year, 11 soldier-scientists were court-martialed on drunkenness and disorderly conduct charges.

Convicted only of disorderly conduct, they were demoted and fined $25 each after their civilian lawyer complained to the Secretary of the Army that they were being penalized merely for exercising the soldier's time-honored right to gripe.

DiSalle Averages 77 Hours Of Office Work per Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If long hours mean anything, Ohio is getting its money's worth out of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The average Joe who works his regular 40 hours a week for 50 weeks a year puts in 2,000 hours a year on the job.

Mike DiSalle spent about 2,325 hours in his office in his first 30 weeks as governor—about 77½ a week.

His regular daily schedule, Monday through Friday, kept him in his office from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., with 2½ hours out for meals. He slowed down on weekends, working only nine hours on Saturdays and six on Sundays.

Strangely, the pace had practically no outward effect on the jocular disposition of the rotund, energetic governor. Apparently he thought so little about it he didn't even bother to keep a running score of the hours he spent on the job before he started on his current 10-day speech-writing "vacation."

At the request of The Associated Press, a DiSalle aide dug back in the governor's daily log to come up with the figures.

The aide's examination of the log showed the governor conferred with approximately as many individuals or groups as he spent hours in the office. The aide estimated DiSalle had about 2,250 conferences, 15 a day or 75 a week on the average.

On top of that, DiSalle held 175 news conferences in the 30 weeks. He held his 100th news conference on his 100th day in office, but he slowed down a bit after that.

In addition, Statehouse police estimate the governor greeted 33,000 visiting school pupils from 79 counties, an average of more than 1,000 a week.

The minimum attorney fee in Columbus is $20 an hour, out of which the lawyer must meet his overhead. If a governor put in a normal 40-hour week, his $25,000 annual salary would pay him at the rate of $12.50 an hour. But a governor who works 77½ hours a week draws only $6.45 an hour for his services.

Death has taken from the Ohio political scene Cleveland's James L. E. Jappe, the diminutive confidant for two-score years of those in high government posts.

The keen-witted bachelor—a one-time press agent who became an attorney—was known as an effective representative of various causes in the Legislature.

The Ohio State Journal commented editorially this week on Jappe's passing:

"He was a trusted associate of prominent Ohio and national political figures. There was scarcely a legislator or other public official or legislative newspaperman in state circles in the past 35 years and more, be he Republican or Democrat, who did not look upon Jimmy as a friend.

"Jimmy served his Republican Party well. He was a highly ethical representative for the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and other organizations and he frequently worked for any legislation he believed was in the public interest.

"He will be sorely missed in the Columbus scene and around the Statehouse."

Defense Chief Bans Book by Air General

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has banned publication of a book on nuclear striking power written by the chief of the Strategic Air Command, Gen. Thomas S. Power.

The decision to deny one of the country's senior military leaders authority to express his views on present and future strategic requirements was made by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy.

The Pentagon action was disclosed today in a new issue of the authoritative Army Navy Air Force Journal.

An official statement in response to inquiries said that McElroy denied approval for Gen. Power to have his book published on the grounds that it was inappropriate for a commander of a major command to author a book concerning his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command.

The book, entitled "Design for Survival," was scheduled for publication by Random House this fall.

In New York, a spokesman for Random House said the firm had suggested to Power that he write the book. The spokesman said Power had submitted only an outline and chapter synopsis, not the manuscript.

Sources who saw the manuscript said it restates generally the opinions expressed by Power in testimony before congressional committees early this year.

Gen. Power argued that since the Strategic Air Command has the major responsibility for strategic warfare it follows that it should have authority to control or at least to coordinate all major strategic weapons including the Polaris missile firing submarines the Navy is now building.

The Williamsport 4-H club along with the parents and people of the community were invited to attend.

Tea and cookies were served at the conclusion of the program.

Red Probers Drop Case in California

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities will cancel hearings scheduled Oct. 14 for the investigation of communism in the California school system.

Subpoenas issued for some 60 or 70 California teachers also will be canceled.

The committee plan became known as a result of a letter sent by Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) to Arthur F. Corey, state executive secretary of the California Teachers Assn.

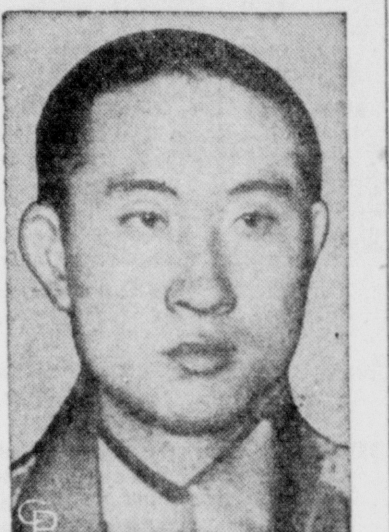

Corey, in a letter to Walter dated Aug. 17, objected to delays in the hearings and protested that the names of many of the teachers involved had been made public.

Corey suggested that under the law district boards of education should be given such information as the committee may have and be permitted to suspend or dismiss the teachers who cannot give satisfactory answers to questions put to them.

In his reply, Walter said he welcomed the suggestion to transmit to the district boards "the names of such teachers so that they may be interrogated by such boards which would then transmit to the committee the copy of the transcript of the proceedings."

Walter said that such a course of action will permit the committee to go into certain other aspects of Communist operations in California.

Committee aides said this will mean that the California teachers hearings will be crossed off the committee schedule and subpoenas canceled.
